

Changing Universities

11/06/2013

A project concerning change management in the higher education sector. The brief was to provide an online space for private and publicly shared discussion groups for senior executives involved in management of change, for networking, shared problem solving, case studies etc. The site (first beta) uses Drupal Commons and has been fairly successful, particularly in recruiting members in this sector. Going forward the plan is to move to trial a simpler platform, for example WordPress Commons in a Box, as a second beta.
